Pinot Noir Shiraz

RELEASE DATE: DECEMBER 2021

MURRAY DARLING, AUSTRALIA

Murray Darling is named for two of Australia's longest rivers, which run through the vast region and provide vital irrigation. The region is hot and dry, with long sunny days balanced by cool nights. The loamy and sandy soils are unique to the Murray River system and nourish strong vines. Together the heat, rivers, and soils produce grapes which create soft and flavourful wines.

PINOT NOIR SHIRAZ

Pinot Noir and Shiraz may seem like an odd couple, but this uniquely Australian blend has a noble history and is currently making a major resurgence. Mixed berry, floral and soft spice aromas open to a vibrant palate of sour cherry and red fruit flavours with undertones of dark plum, blueberry, light licorice and spice. Silky tannins and bright acidity complete this juicy and energetic blend.

SWEETNESS: DRY | OAK: MEDIUM
